

Welcome to the School Health Promotion study

Taking the survey is voluntary, meaning you are not required to participate the survey. We will not ask you to give your name. All answers will be processed confidentially. So, no one will know how you have responded. The questions are related to health, well-being and studying. There are also questions related to violence, mental health, substance abuse, gender and sexuality. Not all questions have to be answered.

To log in to the survey:

1. Go to the web address provided by the teacher.
2. Enter the login-ID which you get from the teacher.
3. Click "Log in".
4. You can select the language after logging into the questionnaire. The languages are Finnish, Swedish, English, Russian and Northern Sámi.
5. When you are done or the response time ends, go to the last page of the form and press the "Submit answers" button. After that, close your browser.

The screenshot shows a login page for KTK25. At the top, it says "KTK25" in bold. Below that, it says "Log in using the login-ID you received". There is a label "Login-ID" above a text input field. At the bottom, there is a dark grey button with the text "Log in" in white.

The responses will help educational institutions develop their activities. The responses can also be used to improve services for children and young people. The responses will be used for scientific research at the Finnish Institute for Health and Welfare (THL) and they can be made available to other researchers. The data is taken care of by the Finnish Institute for Health and Welfare and the FSD (Finnish Social Science Data Archive).

If you are concerned about issues related to your well-being, it is important to talk about them with your parents, school nurse, social worker or another adult in your educational institution.
